

This weekend in Montague and Downtown Turners Falls. November 26-December 1. Please Share!

Wednesday, November 27

Jesse Carr Trio

The Rendezvous, 78 Third St., 8pm

Wes Brown on bass. Chris Bakriges on piano. ABOUT JESSE CARR: "Jesse sings in a laconic style and chooses his repertoire carefully, presenting meaningful versions of tunes that evoke Chet Baker. His own compositions as well as his re-harmonizations of Beatles tunes are especially wonderful."—Eugene Uman Director of Vermont Jazz Center. ABOUT CHRIS BAKRIGES: "No matter how small, musicians create a movement over time that connects the world through music," Bakriges, notes. "It's through music that we can understand our differences and create a better world." Bakriges, pianist, composer, and ethnomusicologist of Greek American decent, has not only performed in musical meccas such as London, Toronto, New York, Istanbul, Prague, and Paris; but relishes playing in places where one wouldn't think global-inspired jazz would have much currency.
